Georgetown Prep defeated Good Counsel 13-3 Saturday morning in a clash of IAC and WCAC titans. The Hoyas were clearly the better team on an afternoon where they dominated time of possession, shots on goal and pretty much every other aspect of the game. Their defense is what made the biggest statement, however, as most of the game was played on Falcons side of the field.

“Our defense, we’ve got three seniors down there in Perraut, Blonsky and Posniewski. They are all solid defenders and that is what we expect from them being seniors—to be a shutdown defense,” said Prep head coach Kevin Giblin.

The Hoyas defensive success was predicated on the equally dominating performance from their offense, which controlled the ball and kept the pressure on the Good Counsel defense from the opening faceoff.

Mike Pirone opened up the scoring 1:12 into the game. Vince Strittmatter scored two minutes later and the flood gates were officially open for the home team. The Hoyas went on to score six of the game’s first seven goals en route to a 7-2 halftime lead.

“We came out and were focused. We are not looking over any teams anymore,” said Cory Dobyms, who had two second quarter goals. “After our win against Delbarton, we went right to focusing on Good Counsel. The main thing was we wanted to play a team game, we wanted to play together and move the ball.”

Dobyms credited his team’s improvement to the team coming together in the aftermath of the Collegiate loss, in which DCSportsFan’s second ranked team lost to the unranked Knights 11-6.

“There are no more individuals. We started out the year where everyone wanted to be the guy or the go-to-man. Now we are a collective unit and we trust each other. We are all about team unity now. It was a good win today, but we have the IAC coming up and we have to continue to do what we have been doing.”

What they did this afternoon was effective to the point that the Hoyas starters were watching the game from the sidelines by the beginning of the fourth quarter. The offense scored the first six goals after halftime. There was one stretch in the second quarter when the Hoyas won five straight faceoffs.

The Falcons offense relied more on one-on-one matchups to score, but the Hoyas defense was up to the challenge. Meanwhile, Prep’s offense moved the ball fluidly and got assists on over 70 percent of their goals. The ball movement pleased coach Giblin.

“We moved the ball. We moved off the ball, too. We didn’t stand around and we had some good off-ball movement. I thought we played well. Good Counsel is a good team but the amount of people we had playing for us helped us. That was definitely an A-game for us.”
